To Amend Law to Let Insurance Company Invest Funds in Project.

Mechanics and Similar Wage earners to Be Beneficiaries of Big Housing Project.

A definite plan for the construction of enough apartment houses to mee the existing shortage-with apartments suitable for the average mechanic and wagecarner and to rent lined yesterday by Samuel Untermyer counsel to the Lockwood legislative committee on housing, before the Forum of the Free Synagogue, St. Nicholas avenue and 163d street.

The plan involves an amendment to the insurance law that will permit investment by any life insurance company doing business in New York State of an amount not to exceed 10 per cent. of its admitted assets in tenement house property adapted to the use of mechanics and workmen.

The committee's plans call for the onstruction of such apartment buildings in large units, probably in the borough of Queens.

According to Mr. Untermyer all that is necessary to put the plan into immediate operation and begin construction

The discovery of a financial agency or sufficient wealth, power and enthusiasm for public service to make the necessary investment on the basis of a 6 per cent, return.

The hearty cooperation of organized labor and substantial concessions in the wage scale, limited, however, to this particular project.

The procuring of substantial price concessions from manufacturers of and dealers in builders' materials, having regard to the assurance of prompt rayment.

Expects Conditions to Be Met.

The first two conditions, Mr. Unter The first two conditions, Mr. Untermyer believes, have been or will be met. Only the need for the cooperation of the dealers in builders' supplies, he thinks, stands in the way of beginning work on

Mr. Untermyer announced yesterday at the Metropolitan Life Insurance mpany, the assets of which as of Denber 31, 1921, were $1.115,583,024, had of the venture. In return for this the suggestion is mide that every mechanic and laborer working on the proposed new buildings should have a preferential right to rent an apartment in them. "In this way." Mr. Untermyer told the forum, "the men who are doing the work will feel that they are building the work will feel that they are building to their own occupation, and houses for their own occupation, and we shall. I am sure, get an amount of added efficiency that could not other-wise be had. I think I am safe in fig-uring this added efficiency at 20 per cent. of the labor cost."

The proposed amendment to the inof the first class, as determined by the Legislature, and in no event longer than two years. The suggested amendment

Provided, however, that so long as commodations for the workers in cities of the first class, as found by the Legislature, shall centinue, but in no event beyond two years from the passage of this act, it shall be lawful for any life insurance company organized under the laws of this State or transacting business therein, to invest not exceeding ness therein, to invest not exceeding 10 per cent, of its total admitted assets
